PEACE COMMISSION.

Spanish Members Decided on, but Names Not Announced.

THE CUBAN MILITARY COMMISSION.

Official List Differs From Press Forecast. Porto Rico Commissioners Not Yet Named—Awaiting Word From Macias—Carlist Rising.

MADRID, Aug. 20.—The peace commissioners have not been nominated, but it is believed the composition of the commission has been decided upon, though the names of its members will not be published yet, as the government is resolved to take advantage of the delay granted by the protocol in order to avoid a cabinet crisis.

The cabinet council last evening decided to appoint General Gonzales Parrado, second in command in Cuba; Rear Admiral Luis Pastor Landero, who succeeded Admiral Navarro, the Spanish commander in Cuban waters, and Marquis de Montoro, minister of finance in the insular cabinet, as the commission of evacuation for Cuba.

The Porto Rican commission has not yet been appointed, the government awaiting an expression of the views of Governor General Macias, but it has been decided that Admiral Vallarino shall be one of the commissioners.

El Liberal publishes remarks made by Senor Sagasta on the diplomatic and political situation, quoting the premier as follows:

"From a legal point of view the present state of things is neither peace nor war, but merely a suspension of hostilities. An armistice would have allowed us to dispel better the obscurity of the situation, but the United States declined to agree to our making a step further in advance.

"The questions to be solved are numerous and complex. What we have done first is to lay down certain bases on which each minister may make any observations which study of the subject suggests. These will continue to be treated in daily cabinet councils, it being held that the bases in question are the fundamental instructions for the guidance of the various commissions in the forthcoming negotiations, to be supplemented and rectified subsequently by telegraph.

"In Cuba, besides evacuation, there are many other problems. Spain may abandon her sovereignty over the Greater Antilles, but there will remain the question of edifices and all our property ties. There are lawsuits before the tribunals affecting the interests of the Spaniards. Where and when will these be decided? In Havana, where a large number of criminals have been condemned by Spanish tribunals, what it to be done with them? Then there are other questions for which we have to fix a basis of discussion and agreement regarding the Philippines Besides these and other problems of greater importance, there is a preliminary question to be discussed.

"According to international law, as a suspension of hostilities has been signed, the surrender of Manila ought to have no legal efficacy. How will that principle be understood by the United States? This causes us much anxiety, and we give it great attention, but we are still awaiting the information demanded from General Jaudenes, which has not yet reached us on account of the difficulties of communication between Manila and Hongkong."

These remarks have all the appearance of being authentic, as they are in accord with information from other sources and in harmony with Senor Sagasta's usual style.

The public is still anxious for an explanation of Governor General Augustin's mysterious departure from Manila, but its curiosity is not likely to be satisfied for some time, the government declining to say anything.

Warships to Meet Spanish Troops.

CADIZ, Aug. 19, via Gibraltar, Aug. 20.—The Numancia has been docked for completion.

It has been decided to send the Palayo, the Carlos V and the Vitoria to each of the ports where the repatriated Spaniards are expected.

The authorities are discussing the advisability of the construction of a railway line from Torregorda to Carraca.

Cartagena sends another cock and bull story about a new submarine boat, the invention of a naval lieutenant.

The military preparations on the southern coasts are completely stopped. The whole district has been so excited discussing what would be done that nothing has been accomplished. Now peace is settled all the southerners are mopping their brows and consoling themselves that had the Americans come they would have had a hot reception. It is the old story of all talk.

Spanish Minister Xiquena Dead.

MADRID, Aug. 20.—The death is announced of Count Xiquena, minister of agriculture and commerce and of public works in the cabinet of Senor Sagasta which resigned in May last.

Count Xiquena (Don Jose Alvarez de Toledo y Acuna) held the same portfolio which he held in the late cabinet of Senor Sagasta in 1889. He was president of the council of state in 1894 and had twice been governor of Madrid. The count did not always side with the Liberals.

Carlist Rising Near Salamanca.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Biarritz says that another armed band has appeared in the district of Ciudad Rodrigo, about 50 miles from Salamanca. The dispatch also says that more Carlist agents have been arrested at Barcelona.

Diet Kitchen at Camp Wikoff.

BOSTON, Aug. 20.—The Volunteer Aid association has appropriated $10,000 to establish a diet kitchen at Montauk Point to cook proper food for the convalescents. Six cooks from Young's hotel have already gone to the scene. A gentleman who desires his name withheld has contributed to the association a towboat to ply between New London and Montauk Point, and another has given a lighter, as it is said to be hard to get supplies across.

More Transports at Montauk.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The war department was informed last night of the arrival at Montauk Point, N. Y., yesterday of three transports with troops from Santiago. General Young's dispatch as bulletined at the department was as follows:

"Seneca arrived 5 p. m., 18th, Fourth infantry, 1,500 troops, Major Baker commanding, 73 sick, no deaths or contagion; Comanche arrived 6.30 p. m., 18th, Twenty-fifth infantry, 488 troops, General McKibbin commanding, 114 sick, no deaths or contagion; Mobile arrived 9 a. m., 19th, Eighth and Twenty-second regular infantry and Second Massachusetts, 1,600 troops, General Ludlow commanding, 300 sick in hospital and 300 or 400 more need immediate medical attendance."

Powder Mill Blown Up.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—An explosion occurred yesterday at the Forcite Powder mills, near Landing, on the banks of Lake Hopatcong, New Jersey. Two of the workmen, Axel Anderson and Alfred Johnson, were severely injured. The explosion shook the country for miles around. The building in which the explosion occurred, which was wrecked, was used for manufacturing nitroglycerin. The cause of the explosion is not known.

Transferred to Fort Hamilton.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Forty-seven men, who arrived at quarantine yesterday on the United States hospital ship Relief, were transferred last evening by the steamer Jas. W. Wadsworth to Fort Hamilton.

REMARKABLE FLEET

Nearly a Hundred Warships to Assemble at Fort Monroe.

NAVAL PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.

All Ships to Be Overhauled and Naval Militiamen to Be Succeeded by Sailors of Regular Navy—Old Monitors May Go to Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—One of the largest fleets of warships ever assembled in an American port will be brought together in the next few days at Fort Monroe. Already 57 warships are under orders to rendezvous there, and the orders still to be issued will raise the total to the neighborhood of 70. Naval officials say it is difficult to realize the extent of such a marine aggregation in one harbor. The orders began issuing last Monday, when five ships were ordered to Fort Monroe. On the 16th another ship was added, on the 17th eight more were sent, and on the 18th 17 ships were added. Yesterday's orders included 17 more ships. Before the orders began issuing there were eight warships at Fort Monroe. Those included in yesterday's orders are the Newport, Rodgers, Lebanon, Wampatuck, Morris, Grim, Lancaster, Machias, Osceola, Peoria, Massasoit, Sioux, Cheyenne, Waban, Chickasaw, Helena, Detroit and Yankton. These and the ships previously ordered are mainly small craft, although there are a number of large cruisers and gunboats, including the San Francisco, Helena, Detroit, Topeka, Marietta and Castine. The movement of these ships northward is due to the close of hostilities and more particularly to the desire to get the ships away from points of possible fever infection. They will now be put in thorough repair, and their crews will be gradually changed from naval militiamen to sailors of the regular navy.

The navy department has not yet determined what ships will go to Havana, San Juan and other points in Cuba and Porto Rico. There is felt to be no hurry about this until the authority of the United States is fully established throughout the islands. In the meantime the matter of policing the shore points is being considered, and in due time a number of the light draft auxiliary craft and some of the single turreted monitors will be used for this coast patrol. It is found, however, that only four of the old monitors of the civil war are fit for this service in southern waters. As many naval vessels will be centered about the West Indies from this time forward the navy department will send the new floating dock recently bought in New York down the coast to Pensacola, Fla., where it will be kept for docking the warships. At that point also there are good naval workshops to be used in conjunction with the floating dock. The dock is now being inspected and will be towed to Pensacola as soon as the September gales are over.

There were few developments of importance in the post war situation yesterday. The authorities are still waiting for General Merritt's list of casualties, and the state, war and navy departments are interested in knowing the exact terms on which Manila was surrendered—whether the city alone or if all the Philippines were included. It was stated by officials that nothing additional on this point had been received up to the close of office hours yesterday. The efforts to restore the Manila cable continue, but they have not proved successful thus far. The claims made in Madrid that the protocol and not the capitulation controls the status of affairs in the Philippines will not be discussed by state department officials. The Madrid discussion is looked upon as rather academic, as it is taken for granted that claims will be made on both sides and that the Paris tribunal will be the final arbiter of the case.

Neither the state department nor the French embassy has yet received word that Spain has chosen her military commissions for Cuba and Porto Rico, and some doubt is expressed as to the accuracy of the names given in London press advices. The names given in these reports are those of Spanish generals and the admirals now stationed in Cuba and Porto Rico, so that if the names are correct no time will be lost in bringing the commissioners together. The understanding here is that the sessions will begin at Havana and San Juan about the first week in September.

TO APPEASE CUBANS.

Captain Mendoza Goes on a Mission to General Castillo.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Aug. 20.—Captain Mendoza of General Lawton's staff went on a mission to General Castillo yesterday with proposals looking to a settlement of the local Cuban question. The details have not transpired, but Castillo says an amicable arrangement was made.

The Hudson, with 500 District of Columbia soldiers, sailed yesterday afternoon. Nine of the men are ill. Eighteen members of the regiment were left in hospital. The rest of the Thirty-fourth Michigan, seven companies, sailed on the Santiago. The Harvard arrived off Morro Castle yesterday. She will take 500 men of the Third Michigan. Still to go are the First Illinois, the balance of the Thirty-third Michigan, the Ninth Massachusetts, the Twenty-fourth infantry, the mounted squadron of the Second cavalry and engineers and sick men. Batteries K of the First artillery, A of the Second, F of the Fourth and F of the Fifth will sail today. Great difficulty is being experienced in taking the guns in lighters to the ships.

The Orizaba left yesterday with Major Dodge and 11 paymasters for Porto Rico. They have $1,000,000, of which $450,000 is in gold.

Clara Barton and Mr. Jarvis of the North American Trust company will go to Havana today.

The officials deny that Mendoza's visit to Castillo's camp had any special significance, being only a return courtesy for Castillo's visit to General Lawton. Since the visit the Cubans have held a meeting, and Castillo has issued invitations to prominent Cubans to go to his camp today. Those present at the meeting last night say that only the general situation was discussed, and a Cuban official told me that no arrangements will be made of any description until instructions have been received from the government at Camaguey. These are now expected daily.

The transport Berlin arrived last evening from New Orleans with Colonel Riche's First immunes, 1,040 men and 51 officers. The troops will disembark at once.

MILITARY COMMISSIONERS.

Wade, Gordon and Butler Relieved of Present Duties.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Major General James F. Wade, formerly in command of the Third army corps at Chickamauga, and Major General M. C. Butler, in command of a division of the Second army corps at Falls Church, have been relieved of their present duties in order to enable them to enter upon the discharge of their important duties as members of the commission charged with the execution of the provisions of the peace protocol regarding the evacuation of Cuba by the Spanish troops. A similar order was also issued yesterday in the case of Brigadier General William W. Gordon, commanding a division of the Fourth army corps, who has been appointed a member of a similar commission in the case of Porto Rico. No one has yet been selected to succeed these officers in their present commands, and it is not likely that any action in that direction will be taken for some time. Major General Brooke, who is the other army officer on the Porto Rican commission, is now in that country and probably will not be relieved of his present duties until after the arrival there of his colleagues on the commission.

Shafter's Sanitary Report.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The following dispatch from General Shafter was received last night:

"Sanitary report for Aug. 19: Total number sick, 1,245; total number fever cases, 815; total number new cases, 91; total number fever cases returned to duty, 130.

"Deaths Aug. 15: Private Cornelius Hanks, Hospital corps, U. S. A., typhoid fever.

"Aug. 16: Private Charles Gombert, Company K, Seventy-first New York, remittent fever and amygdalitis.

"Aug. 17: Private Robert H. Armstrong, Company D, Eighth Ohio, yellow fever; Private Allie D. Van Dyke, Company A, Thirty-third Michigan, yellow fever; Humphrey Montgomery, Company A, Twenty-fourth infantry, typhoid fever; Private J. D. Moriarty, Company E, Ninth Massachusetts, typhoid fever; Ashley Field, Company M, First Illinois, pernicious malarial fever.

"Aug. 18: Private Arthur Burnham, Company K, Second Massachusetts, typhoid fever; Private Anton Anderson, Company E, Third infantry, typhoid fever; Private Millard Taft, Company H, Third infantry, pernicious malarial fever and acute diarrhea."

Leaving Santiago.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Aug. 20.—A portion of the First regiment of infantry left yesterday on the steamer G. H. Miller. Yesterday afternoon 500 of the District of Columbia troops sailed on the transport Hudson, 500 of the Seventh infantry on the Yucatan and six companies of the Thirty-fourth Michigan on the transport Santiago. The troops are going forward as rapidly as possible. Owing to the increase in sickness there is much need of hospital ships. The number of those sick is large, and there are not sufficient accommodations for them.

The embarkation of the Spanish troops continues. One thousand left on the Ville de Verdi last night. Next week smaller transports will take the Spaniards at Guantanamo bay.

The bodies of Major Grady and Major O'Connell and Privates Carey and Jans of the Ninth Massachusetts are on board the transport Santiago, in charge of a brother of Congressman John F. Fitzgerald.

Olivette at Fort Monroe.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Aug. 20.—The steamer Olivette arrived at Fort Monroe yesterday afternoon from Santiago, Cuba, having on board 200 patients of the Fifth army corps, including 25 officers.

While the Olivette was at sea the following men died and were buried:

Corporal Emery Brown, Company E, Tenth cavalry, malarial dysentery, Aug. 14; Charles Waldman, Company C, First District of Columbia, malarial dysentery, Aug. 16; James H. Spencer, Company I, First Illinois, remittent fever and malarial dysentery, Aug. 13; Major Casper H. Conrad, Eighth infantry, remittent malarial fever and dysentery, died off Santiago de Cuba Aug. 15; Herbert H. McCormick, Company I, First Illinois, malarial dysentery, Aug. 18; Homer Covery, Company F, Thirty-fourth Michigan, malarial dysentery, Aug. 19.

Movements of Warships.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Arrivals: Gloucester at St. Thomas, Danish West Indies; Alliance at New London, Conn.; Foote at Charleston, Sylph at League Island, Hercules at Port Royal, S. C.; Maple at Norfolk and Talbot at Southport, N. C. Departures: The Vesuvius sailed from Caimanera, Cuba, for Tompkinsville, N. Y., the Suwannee from Caimanera for Norfolk; the Badger from Caimanera for Montauk Point, N. Y.; the Resolute from Caimanera for Montauk Point, the Zafiro from Hongkong for Manila, the Vicksburg from Key West for Newport, R. I., and the Kanawha from Key West for Guantanamo, Cuba.

McFarland Defeats Ziegler.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Kid McFarland of this city and Owen Ziegler of Philadelphia fought 25 rounds last night before the Athletic club, and Charley White, the referee, justly decided in favor of McFarland, who, with the exception of the last two rounds, had all the better of the bout.

DEATH OF MORALES.

Notorious Revolutionist Dies on Way to Prison.

CLOSE OF A PICTURESQUE CAREER.

Had Kept Central America in an Uproar For Many Years—Indefatigable Promoter of Plots—Laid Consuls Under Tribute.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—United States Minister Hunter of Guatemala cables the state department that General Morales, leader of the revolution, was captured in a cave on Wednesday and died on his way to prison at San Sebastian.

The tragic end of General Morales, as reported to the state department, is but the last of the series of stirring events which have occurred in Guatemala within the last two weeks. Morales gathered together a good sized band along the Mexican border and made his appearance at the large town of Ocos. Here he inaugurated a reign of terror. He seized many thousand bags of coffee and put them to the strange use of building breastworks for his revolutionary band. Sorties were made along the harbor front and launches and other craft burned and destroyed. One of the most audacious acts was the laying tribute upon the United States consul and other consular officers there in the sum of $1,500.

The condition of affairs has been reported to the state department from time to time, and efforts were made, in conjunction with the Mexican authorities, to put an end to the depredations. There was some delay, however, owing to the death of the Mexican minister's wife and his consequent absence from Washington. Ordinarily the United States is represented in Guatemalan waters by a warship, but owing to the war with Spain all our ships have been required elsewhere. It is for this reason probably that the foreign representatives, including those of the United States, united in asking the aid of the British naval commander at Ocos. This has proved effective, according to the report just received from Minister Hunter, as the revolution is ended with the capture and death of General Morales.

Prospero Morales had been a conspicuous figure in Central American affairs during the last three years. He was minister of war in the cabinet of President Barrios, and it is said that he used the war office to foment the rebellion against Barrios. The latter detected the plot and Morales fled to Mexico, where he organized his revolutionary band. In the meantime Barrios was assassinated, being succeeded by President Cabrera. It was thought the death of Barrios would ultimately lead to the success of Morales' revolutionary movement. It culminated in the raids of the last few weeks and finally in the death of the noted revolutionary chief. Among South American officials here it is said that Morales' death will restore a calm to Central American affairs which has not existed for many months, even years, owing to the widespread influence of Morales. He was about 45 years old, a man of education and of marked force of character.

OVER THE SHAWANGUNKS.

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS IN SULLIVAN COUNTY ARE DOING.

The News from All Parts of the County —Many Matters of Interest Gathered from Our Various Exchanges and Contributed by Wide-Awake Correspondents.

—The reward of $250 offered for the capture of the thieves and the recovery of the horse stolen from D. D. Davis, of Newburgh, is claimed by Constable Chas. B. Stenger, of Hankins, and Officer Culhane, of Port Jervis. Stenger claims that he made the arrest with the assistance of W. S. Galloway, and Riley Smith, of Hankins, and though his attorney, Mr. Anderson, of Callicoon, has applied for the payment of the reward.

—John John, of Monticello, cut one of his feet very badly, a few days ago, while splitting wood.

—Julian Pendell for over thirty years Deputy County Clerk of Sullivan county, started on Monday morning last to take the first vacation in all that time. He don't know just where he will go, being bewildered to be out of the office.—Watchman.

—Nine of ten sheep in a flock owned by Thomas Purcell, of near Monticello, were killed by dogs a few days ago.

—During the severe thunder shower, Thursday night, Leonard Moore's barn, near Grahamville, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground with its contents, including a yoke of oxen, belonging to his son, Burr. They had put twelve loads of hay in the barn on that day. It is a heavy loss. We understood there was no insurance on the barn.—Watchman.

—The harvest home parade in aid of the Strongtown Church, Tuesday, was a success. The receipts were $70 38.

—Seth B. Royce, a son of Solomon W. Royce, a former proprietor of the Monticello Mansion House, died at his home in Binghamton, Aug. 12th, after a long illness. He is survived by seven children. His wife, a daughter of the late James E. Quinlan, died in 1892.

—The county fair at Monticello, Aug. 30 and 31 and Sept. 1 and 2, will have as a novel feature a grand coaching parade on the second day, when $75 in cash prizes will be distributed. A bicycle race for $10 in prizes will also be a feature of the day.

—Patrick Curley, a prosperous farmer residing one mile east of Monticello, is, or rather was last week, the owner of a yoke of oxen and a two-year-old colt. On Wednesday the colt and one of the oxen locked horns to determine which should be the lord and king of Mr. Curley's herd. The locality of the battlefield was on the top of a high bridge of rocks and in an open space dangerously near the edge. The fight was continued for a time without any decisive advantage occurring to either of the contestants, when the colt by a sudden and skillful flank movement tossed his antagonist over the ledge. He went down through the trees and landed on the rocks below with a broken neck. The ox was stone dead when his owner reached him.—Watchman.

—James Hunter is digging the cellar for a large boarding house which he will erect on his farm near Hunter's Lake. The site is a fine one and overlooks DeBruce and many miles of surrounding country.

—The musical call of several flocks of quail can be heard in the vicinity of Livingston Manor.

—Mrs. M. C. Martin, of White Sulphur Springs, has bought for $975, the Theo. Ellis farm near Livingston Manor.

—R. A. Monroe, of Liberty, has the contract for putting a steam heating apparatus in the Livingston Manor school house.

—Norman R. and Robert Gatens, the New York boys who won first prize at the Hurley ville coaching parade donated the purse to the fair in aid of the Hurleyville M. E. Church.

—The residence of Rev. P. C. Crevelling in Liberty was struck by lightning, Tuesday. Beyond knocking a few bricks from the chimney no damage was done to the house, but a horse standing 100 feet away, was knocked down by the shock.

—The section of country along the Ontario and Western railroad, from Bloomingburgh to Rockland has more summer guests than in any previous year. It is variously estimated that there are from 5,000 to 6,000 in the town of Liberty alone.—Register.

—J. C. Young has sold the farm formerly owned by Abel Gregory to John D. Stallone of New York, a well known milk and butter merchant of that city. Mr. Stallone will take possession at once and will in the near future make many improvements about the farm. It contains about 300 acres and has a very nice lake upon it.—Register.

—The fair held in Liberty for the benefit of the Episcopal Church netted $300 and the picnic for the benefit of the Catholic Church cleared $1,000

—The Liberty Register published this week a midsummer souvenir edition, handsomely illustrated with views of many of the village's hotels and boarding houses.

—John Smith, Woodbourne, has sold his dairy of forty-five cows and will purchase young stock in their stead.

—Walter Cooley, of Liberty, has sold his farm to John P. Cleary, of New York city. Consideration $1,500.

—The Sullivan County National Bank's new building in Liberty will cost $18,000.

—A wagon in which Leon Miner was riding was backed off the road at the bridge at Beaverkill, a few days ago, by the horse, which became frightened. Man, horse and wagon fell in a heap in the river bed, twenty feet below. Mr. Miner was badly bruised, and the wagon was completely wrecked, but the horse escaped unharmed.

—Liberty's taxpayers at the annual school meeting appropriated $8,000 for building an addition to the school house.

—Game Protector Jones has served commission in a game law suit on P. H. Flynn, of Brooklyn, who is a guest at the Hotel Wawanda, Liberty, and on Jesse G. Smith, of Liberty.

—Sheriff Fulton has levied on the rig and robe of the Liberty-Jeffersonville electric road, under an execution for $150 in favor of William Kessler, of Lake Huntington.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Peter, of Willowemoc, have decided to name their twin boys Dewey and Sampson.

—Deer and small game are reported as very abundant in the woods of Willowemoc.

—Matt Decker & Co., of Willowemoc, will cut 1,500 cords of wood during the winter.

—The removal of the acid factory has made of DeBruce a deserted village. All that remains of the factory is the frame, and only one of the factory houses is occupied—by an aged widow. The church and parsonage are closed, and all religious work has ceased.

—The Monticello Watchman is in receipt of a postal card, directed to "Dever & Quinlan" from Mrs. Ella Cowell, of Portland, Pa. The writer desires a copy of "The Life of Tom Quick, the Indian Slayer." Mr. Dever left the Watchman nearly half a century ago, and Mr. Quinlan sold out his interest in 1886, and died about twenty-four years ago.

LAUNCH OF THE "SURE THING."

Wesley Decker's Boat Added to the Monhagen Lake system.

Wesley Decker has launched his boat, "Sure Thing," on Monhagen Lake, and as soon as the Water Board allots him a number, he will begin the work of supplying his own and his friends' table with delicious bass.

The season for bass fishing has been very backward, and as the conduct of boat owners at the lakes has been so thoroughly correct it is expected that the commissioners will extend the boating privilege at least two months.

O. and W.'s last sunday excursion to Coney Island.

Owing to the increasing popularity of Sunday excursions to Coney Island run by the Ontario and Western, they advertise positive by the last Sunday excursion of the season to that famous resort on Sunday, Aug. 28th. Heretofore these excursions have been patronized by thousands of excursionists and it is expected that this one will even outrank its predecessors. The rates have been greatly reduced for the excursion in question. Remember the date, Aug. 28, 31dtd

Failure of Simpson's "Big store."

Walter Simpson, who conducted the largest grocery store in Kingston, made an assignment, Thursday, to ex-Sheriff Philip Schantz. In connection with the grocery business, he ran a large meat market, and he recently opened a wholesale and retail liquor store. He employed twenty-five clerks and drivers, and had about a dozen delivery wagons. His assets are estimated to be worth $20,000 or $25 000. His liabilities are not yet known.

A Ninety-Year-Old Dentist.

Dr. Otis Avery, of Honesdale, who celebrated his ninetieth birthday, Thursday, is undoubtedly the oldest practicing dentist in the United States. He commenced practice in 1833 and has been located at Honesdale since 1850, and it is said that he can still operate as skillfully as in his younger days.

ERIE'S CARBONDALE EXCURSION.

A Ride Over the Famous Gravity Road in the Pennsylvania Mountains.

On Aug. 29th the Erie will run an excursion via Honesdale and D. and H. Co.'s Gravity Railroad to Carbondale and return, through the heart of the Pennsylvania mountains, stopping at beautiful Fairview. A trip over the Gravity Railroad, going and returning via different routes, is one of the most interesting and delightful excursions given to the traveler.

Crossing the Moosic Range the train climbs higher and higher, by a series of sharp ascents, being drawn up the mountainside by powerful cables, then "coasting" down again until another incline is reached, and finally mounting to an altitude of 2,000 feet above thence where it touches the very top of the range. This is literally railroading in the clouds, and the panorama spread out before the eye is a marvelous exhibition of nature's handiwork.

Fairview needs little description; it speaks for itself. A beautiful park on the mountain-top, observatories, charming walks and drives, cool, delightful temperature, magnificent scenery, and a good dinner at reasonable cost, make it an ideal spot for a day's outing. The rate for the round trip is only $1.25, the distance being about 170 miles. Special train will leave Middletown, Main street, at 8:30 a. m., James street at 8:38 a. m., arriving at Carbondale about noon. Returning, leave Carbondale at 4:15 p. m. dtod

Ontario and Western Mary Powell Excursion.

The next Mary Powell excursion will be run by the Ontario and Western on Thursday, Aug. 25, at $1 for round trip. Train will leave Middletown, Wickham avenue, at 7 a. m., Main street at 7 02 a. m. Special trolley car will leave Goshen at 6:30 a. m., connecting with the excursion train at Main street depot. Returning leave Dyckmans street, New York, at 9:15 and West 22d street at 3 30 p. m. advtd

OBITUARY.

Mrs. John Harrison.

Mrs. Mary Harrison, wife of John Harrison, of Unionville, died, Friday night, at 10 o'clock. She was about sixty years of age, and had been in failing health for some time.

She is survived by her husband, but leaves no children.

The funeral will be held from her late residence, Monday afternoon, at two o'clock.

Mrs. Elvira Monell Beattie.

Mrs. Elvira Monell Beattie, widow of Israel O. Beattie, died, Friday, at the home of her son, Judge John J. Beattie, in Warwick, in her seventy-ninth year. She was for very many years a resident of this city, and is held in loving remembrance by many of our older residents.

She is survived by three sons: Samuel, living in the west; John J., of Warwick; and Fred, of Port Jervis; and a daughter, Dr. Mary E. Beattie, of Newburgh.

The funeral notice appears elsewhere.

Mrs. Caroline Sweezy.

Mrs. Caroline Sweezy, widow of Lewis Sweezy, died at 2:15, Friday afternoon, at her home in Middletown, aged seventy-three years. Death was due to general debility, and though she had been in failing health for several years, she was confined to her bed but two days.

Mrs. Sweezy's husband died about eighteen years ago. She leaves no children. She is survived by a brother, Albert Wickham, and a sister, Jane, widow of John Wickham, both of Port Jervis.

She was for many years a member of the Ridgebury Presbyterian Church.

The funeral notice appears elsewhere.

THE PEARL HE WON

By HELEN BEEKMAN.

"I WONDER where on earth Belle Rives gets her beauty from!" This was the remark so commonly made that it had almost become a by-word in the little hamlet beyond the hills where she had developed into such bewildering loveliness. The surprise readily was accounted for, as on a Sunday morning she was seen striving to walk slowly and demurely beside the dark-browed, weather-beaten captain, whom she called father. No sign of resemblance could be traced in the delicate skin; deep gray eyes and small mouth shaped like Cupid's bow, to either parent or grandparent, but the result was so bewitching one soon lost sight of their wonderment in admiration. How often she stood gazing out on the dark blue sea and felt an infinite longing to know something of that outside world which, it seemed to her, that stretch of water shut from view.

"Sea-gazing, as usual," said a voice behind her one morning, in the midst of her reverie. "What are you thinking of now, Belle? That to-morrow my ship will be bounding over those breakers, and that a whole long year must elapse before I again shall stand by your side?" And Bert Rogers' words somehow sounded hoarse as he completed the last sentence, and she turned with a blush and smile to greet him.

"So soon? Do you sail to-morrow? I wish I were going with you Bert; anything, anywhere, to go beyond this narrow life. I am tired—tired of it all."

"Your child! It must grow wearisome, indeed, but to me, Belle, it is a haven of rest. I love the sea. It is home to me, and if, as you say, you could go with me, I should not care how contentedly I lived upon it. Did you mean that? Would you go with me, go as my wife, Belle? I have long wanted to say this to you, and oh, this year will seem so short, so happy, if at its end I may come to claim you."

The girl's head had dropped lower and lower until, his voice ceasing, it rested on his shoulder; and the frank, handsome young face beat and looked into the eyes which hid themselves beneath their jetty lashes, where a tear-drop trembled.

So Bert won her promise—a promise which he made her put in fond, endearing words, which he sealed lip to lip and heart to heart, which seemed written on his soul, as the next day his gallant ship unfurled her sails, and he watched through misty eyes the land gradually lost to sight.

It all seemed more drear, more desolate than ever to the graceful figure on the shore, as she saw fade away in the distance the ship which bore from her her sailor lover. She could recollect no time when he could not have claimed that name. From her babyhood she remembered his devotion to her, but now it was so different, and a year was so long to wait she thought, until she could once again look into his happy, laughing eyes and hear his voice say: "I have come this time, Belle, for my wife."

She was surprised to find herself at the cottage door. For a moment she hesitated lest her red eyes should give suspicion of the truth, then she gathered courage and in another moment stood within the room, but started back, amused at the scene before her. By the fireside sat her mother, her head bowed, her frame convulsed by sobs, and standing near her father, with face pale and drawn by suffering. Opposite a man of tall, soldierly bearing and commanding presence was talking eagerly, but as she entered his voice died away, and a look of rapture crept into his eyes as they turned upon her.

"Tell her! I cannot," she heard her father say.

Then the stranger, speaking low and rapidly, broke the momentary silence.

"Years ago the ship commanded by Capt. Rives was wrecked at sea, and the lives of almost all on board were lost. Among the passengers were a lady and gentleman with their little child of 18 months. In the confusion they became separated. Both were supposed lost. The little child was rescued by the gallant captain, who risked his own life in the attempt. Then, having no children of his own, he took the little desolate orphan to his heart and home, and when, some few years later, he gave up his seafaring life, the people in the place where he settled supposed her his own. Her own father, who was picked up out at sea in an outgoing vessel, was saved, but supposed both wife and child had perished until, after years of search, Providence guided his steps to this spot, where he had learned the captain lived, and from whose lips he thought he might hear something more definite of their fate. He found that search exceeded his wildest prayers. Belle, my child, do you not know me? I am your father!"

A moment's hesitation and the girl was sobbing on his breast, while his arms closely clasped his new-found treasure. Then she raised her head and threw herself on the poor woman's bosom, to whom for so many years she had given the sacred name of mother, and who now saw torn from her the child she had learned to love as her own. But the claim of justice could not be denied, and with the promise that every year she should return to visit them, the next day saw each home tearing her further from them for into the outside world her dreams had so often penetrated. Six months sped rapidly by in her new home, whose luxurious appointments seemed to her the realization of a glimpse into fairyland. Her father, ever anticipating her every wish, showered upon her gifts of such value that she could scarce believe in the wonderful change which had befallen her. She had given herself for this time up to study, that he might feel a justifiable pride in her, but as on the eve of her twentieth birthday, in the lustrous silk trailing behind her its costly folds, jewels gleaming in her hair and on the marble purity of her neck and arms, she reads in his glance his proud content, as standing by his side she receives the guests he has summoned in her honor.

The weeks which follow establish her claim to belledom. The daughter of Col. Smithers (for such is her new-found father's name) at any time would attract attention, but with her beauty and grace all bow beneath the sceptre she wields as though she had held it all her life. Due to the many suitors who sue for her fair hand she gives to one and all a gentle, firm refusal. Always when alone there comes before her mental vision the picture of a gallant ship with sails unfurled riding the crest-topped waves, its brave, young commander looking with straining eyes toward the land, where lie all his dearest hopes, and words of love from other men fall deaf on ears which have listened to those uttered by his lips. Her father, too happy to keep the child he has so long lost all his own, asks no questions as to why she does not care to leave him, but day by day strives to show by some new proof of love his immeasurable content.

So the year slips by, and the month Belle is to spend with her foster parents has returned. Ah, so gladly her eye falls on the familiar landscape she once spurned, and the cottage which then seemed the narrow scope to her horizon now rises before her with such beauty that it brings tears to her eyes and a glad rush of joy to her heart. Outwardly, it is no longer Belle who has come home to them, who lies clasped to their hearts. The graceful young form in clad in garments which well suit their wearer; skill and art have given the picture a setting more worthy its beauty, but the heart within is all unchanged. This they realize as, mingling her tears with theirs, she questions of this and that, and in her old way peers here and there, while their eyes follow every movement as if some princess had stepped across their threshold. But the question nearest her heart she utters not. "Has his ship come home?" This trembles on her lips, but she dares not speak it. He will come to welcome her, if he is here. But the glad news she learns at last without seeking. The ship in port has ridden well, and her young captain carried fresh laurels on his voyage. On the morrow she will see him. With this sweet thought she seeks at last the bed whereon have rested so often her childish limbs, and closes her eyes to dream of him. With his image still uppermost in her mind she wakens in the morning. Will he think me changed? she wonders as he makes her fresh toilette, wearing the color he has so often told her he liked best, but the sun which has risen in such glory sets again, the ribbons she has so carefully selected are again folded and put away, but he for whom they were worn has not come.

So passes away a heavy week, and the old captain and his wife look with anxiety on the pale cheek they at first thought so blooming and hold anxious counsultations as to whether city dissipation has agreed with their sweet wild rose. It is no longer with pleasure she walks slowly down to the sands and stands with busy thought of him who has proved so faithless, when, as though conjured up, he stands before her. The bright color dyes her cheek, spite of her effort at outward calmness as he speaks.

"This is an unexpected surprise, Miss Smithers. I hardly hoped to find you here."

"Else you would not have come. Your presence requires no apology. I only regret I have not acquired your facility to forget old friends."

"Forget! Would to God I could forget," he interrupted her.

"A year ago I left a bright, lovely girl who promised on my return to be my wife. For 12 long months no word reached me, but I came home with heart full of hope to find her not dead, it is true, but dead to me—changed even in name. Had some magician waved his hand, no greater transformation could have been wrought. Do not mock me, Miss Smithers. I have already suffered enough," and raising his hat he turned to go, but stopped, arrested by her voice. It was very low, but every word fell clear and distinct upon his ear.

"Your promised wife is waiting still," she said. "Is it for her to tell you that she has grown weary, for her to see that her probation may end? Bert, you have laid low my pride when I can thus address you, but because my name is no longer the same, because I have found a father, must I lose a husband?"

But her last word was left unfinished as he snatched her to his arms, his face radiant, his brain reeling with his wonderful joy.

"Darling," he murmured at last, "the pearl I won was simple and sweet. Do you marvel that in its new value I dared not call it mine?"

"And as you would have robbed it of all its lustrous charm, Bert, I have been the one to give it; you must guard it."

So Col. Smithers found a son, as well as a daughter, to whom he gave fond welcome for her sake, only making one condition—that the ship which had gained such happy part at last should ne'er again be commanded by her brave young captain, who, in his bright home and companionship of his young wife, finds no time to regret his loss.—N. Y. Ledger.

A Letter for Grandpa.

The man who takes proper care of his health in youth and maturity lives to smile as he reads the letters of his grandchildren. It's worth something to do that. It's worth a little daily care and thought for health. It's worth a dollar here and there for the right remedy for the insidious ills that waste the big dispenser.

When a man's liver is "out of whack" or his digestion is bad, or his appetite "finicky," he should take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It makes a man "hungry as a bear." It lifts the blood with the life-giving elements of the food a man takes. It is the great liver invigorator. It makes the digestion perfect. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and nerve-tonic. It drives all impurities from the system. It cures nervous prostration, bilious complaints, malarial troubles and all poor crops of all sorts of constipation. The medicine dealer who offers a substitute for the sake of a few extra profits pools, to dishonest.

"Would have written you before now, but thought I would wait until I got entirely well," writes Miss Mary Tilton, of Hutchinson, Champaign Co., Ohio. "Now I am pleased to say that I am cured and well. I have been using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' We thank you for what you have done for me. I was troubled with female weakness, headaches, cold feet and hands, a disagreeable drain and general weakness; was exceedingly nervous, had poor appetite, constipation, dizziness in the stomach, foul mouth, dull feeling of internal presence of some great misfortune. Three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' completely restored my health."

Constipation and biliousness are easily, surely overcome by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Druggists sell them. Nothing is "just as good."

Louisiana Red Cypress LUMBER!

"When wood first came to be employed in the arts, the durability, fragrance and beauty of Cypress caused it to be selected for costly buildings, such as the palace of David and the temple of Solomon."

History repeats itself, and Cypress is again coming in general use in the best buildings, for the following reasons:

It will take paint better than any other wood.
It is the most durable wood in the world.
It is proof against insects and vermin.
It will not rot and is cheap.

Middletown Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Already Done.

"I have come, sir, to ask for your daughter."

The old man looked the young man over critically.

"I suppose you know," he said, "that under the new revenue law all transfers, in addition to being duly and properly recorded, must be stamped."

"Sir," answered the young man, "I beg to inform you that I got the necessary imprint on your daughter's lips not less than eight times in the minutes immediately preceding my coming to you."

The old man—well, what could he say, anyway?—Chicago Post.

Another Antique.

Dunn—I've just succeeded in perfecting an invention that will revolutionize modern warfare and make my fortune.

Dunn—Indeed! What is the nature of your discovery?

Dunn—A powder that's absolutely noiseless.

Dunn—Pshaw! That's old: women have been using it for centuries.—Chicago News.

Absences.

"It takes a great deal of alertness to be a successful man nowadays," said the young military man.

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne, "and it isn't confined to actual battles. I should imagine it requires some watchfulness to see that somebody else doesn't get credit for your victories."—Washington Star.

Incident Closed.

He—Why is it that women take such delight in dragging their husbands around to balls and parties and all that sort of nonsense?

She—It is only at such affairs they can get their lords and masters to treat them with any consideration.—Indianapolis Journal.

Would Be a Cheerful Giver.

Fond Mother (to her precious son, aged 12 years)—Willie, what would you like to give your cousin Harry for his birthday?

Willie (who has his own opinion of Cousin Harry, aged 16)—I know what I'd like to give him, but I ain't big enough!—Judy.

What It Is Like.

"What is a battle like?" she asked.

"Well," returned the veteran, thoughtfully, "you've seen pictures of them, haven't you?"

"Of course," she answered.

"Then all you have to do" he explained. "is to imagine something that is entirely different."—Chicago Post.

True Happiness.

Querious—Who is the happier, a man who has $100,000 or one who has seven daughters?

Rabbi—The latter.

Querious—Why?

Rabbi—The man with $100,000 wants more, the other doesn't.—Tit-Bits.

She Stood It Bravely.

Dayton—My wife had a very trying hour this morning, but it didn't worry her a bit.

Hamilton—Is that so? What was going on?

Dayton—Her new dress.—Chicago Daily News.

But ere a week had flown
He had to gain consent from her
When he went out alone
—Chicago Daily News.

A DELICATE HINT.

He—Let's see, how long ago was it that uncle was here last?

She—O, that was ages ago! It was just after I got my last new bonnet!—Humoristische Blaetter.

The Old Question.

Now Uncle Sam most calm and cool
And cheerful through and through,
Says: "Tell me, is it, brother Spain,
Quite hot enough for you?"
—Brooklyn Life.

She Gave Him One Thing.

"Papa, I've decided I won't marry any man but a soldier."

"That's right, daughter; then you won't need any new clothes for the sea shore."—Detroit Free Press.

The Up-to-Date Parrot.

Mrs. Domestic—I suppose you don't like the looks of the parrot plumage on my hat?

Parrot—It would look better if your hat were on straight.—N. Y. World.

A Diplomatic Reply.

She—Did you tell your friend that I was getting to be like an elephant?

He—Yes, dear, you know elephants are terribly afraid of mice.—Yonkers Statesman.

A Swift Ride.

Tourist—How did you like that last cyclone you had?

Kansas Bill—We we're simply carried away with it.—N. Y. World.

The Beneficiaries.

City Cousin—Who was benefited by the charity concert night before last?

Village Cousin—The people who didn't attend.—Judge.

LETTERS OF THE ARMS CRIME.

For the information of our readers, we publish below a complete list of the letters and their times of all the clocks used in this city:

[illegible]

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain; cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children, teething, is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

SPINAL [illegible] cured by Inflammatory Rheumatism

Three Days.

Morton L. Hill, of Lebanon, Ind., says "My wife had inflammatory rheumatism in every muscle and joint, her suffering was terrible and her body and face were swollen beyond recognition; had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians but received no benefit until she tried the Myrtle Cure for Rheumatism. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by J. S. Mills, No. 2 Empire Block, Druggist, Middletown.

Beauty in Blood Deep.

Clean blood means a clean skin. No beauty without it. Cascarets, Candy Cathartic clean your blood and keep it clean, by starting up the lazy liver and driving all impurities from the body. Begin to-day to banish pimples, boils, blotches, blackheads, and that sickly bilious complexion by taking Cascarets,—beauty for ten cents. All druggists, satisfaction guaranteed. 10c, 25c, 50c.

Give the Children a Drink

called Grain-O. It is a delicious, appetizing, nourishing food drink to take the place of coffee. Sold by all grocers and liked by all who have used it because when properly prepared it tastes like the finest coffee but is free from all its injurious properties. Grain-O aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. It is not a stimulant but a health builder and children, as well as adults, can drink it with great benefit. Costs about one-fourth as much as coffee. 15 and 25c.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life. Was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornell, Valley Street, Saugerties, N. Y.

To Cure Constipation Forever.
Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

ON THE TIP OF THE TONGUE.

This is a great season for garden truck. The appetite for such green goods ought to be appeased nowadays, for the groceries are filled with fresh vegetables, and everything is cheap.

"It isn't very far off to school days," remarked a teacher, this morning. "The vacation has passed very fast this summer for some reason or another, and I don't feel half rested. Do you know, I think we school teachers ought to be paid salaries high enough to allow us all a change of climate for the full vacation."

The first mail after the 24th boys arrive at Hamilton will doubtless bring a line of letters of a different nature to the colonel this time. They will be from the boys who are left at home. The boys should have an excellent drillmaster in Foreman Short, and his work is backed by every "private" in the company.

Hoboken Canal Employes' Wages.

From the Electric Press.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, on the 15th inst., cut the wages of all lock-tenders to a dollar a day, at the same time discharging part of the scow-hands-and-some carpenters. Four men were discharged here, and Boss Kimble is left with three scow-hands to care for sixteen and a half miles of canal. The lock-tenders have been paid $32.50 a month, and will now get $26. The reduction is said to be brought about by the poor business and poorer prospects.

Turf and Horse Notes.

Belle Leland, a valuable mare belonging to W. S. Garrison, of Maplewood Stock Farm, Londontown, N. J., died in the Driving Park stables at Port Jervis, Thursday evening, of congestion of the lungs. She was distanced in the races here and in the 2:35 race at Port Jervis finished sixth to the first heat and was distanced in the second. She fell after reaching the stable and never rallied.
